

Electronic legal data exchange

We know the path to success

Concept and consulting

Electronic communications allow judiciary bodies to extricate themselves from paper warfare. Data must only be captured once, files are maintained electronically. That saves time and costs. And the idea is catching on: entries in the commercial register are now almost exclusively made electronically, in other sectors such as the European enforced collection, electronic processes are the subject of intensive work.

We support you in the development of this type of future solution with vital core competencies. We are familiar with the requirements of the judiciary from many years of productive work for the National Chamber of Notaries and the Baden-Württemberg Ministry of Justice. We are at home with process management consulting and we have already proven our IT know-how with XNotar, the first nationwide system to be introduced in Germany for electronic legal data exchange.

Contact us, we'll be pleased to advise you.

More experience:

Broad expertise in (X)judiciary structures

More output:

From process management consulting to realisation

More service:

From project management to system integration

Know-how for the success of your project

Our service package at a glance

Conceptual consulting and moderation

Integrating all those involved, we analyse the existing technical and organisational basis using our broad experience from judiciary, process management consulting and IT projects, then we work out a detailed implementation concept.

Technical design

We conceive solutions which can be seamlessly integrated into your existing systems and which conform to standards such as for electronic legal traffic data exchange, XJustiz, XDomea and OSCI.

Project management and operation

We navigate the total project to success. After the launch we remain at your disposal in the long-term with our know-how.

Project successes in practice

Westernacher developed the first nationwide procedure to be introduced by Notarnet GmbH for the electronic transmission of commercial register entries with the components SigNotar, XNotar and EGVP. Today it is the de facto standard in this sector – thus enabling valuable know-how to be acquired for the development of further solutions in legal electronic legal data exchange.

Westernacher Products & Services

- Concentration on consulting, process design and project implementation for the public sector
- Over 60 consultants
- Sites in Bruchsal, Berlin, Munich, Würzburg
- For many years we have been producing outstanding results for clients such as the Baden-Württemberg Ministry of Justice, the National Chamber of Notaries, the Catholic Church, various NPOs and now also the European Academy of Law and Computing.

You want to make your project a success?
E-mail us at

justiz@westernacher.com or contact us at

Westernacher Products & Services AG
Zeiloch 20, 76646 Bruchsal, Germany
T: +49 (0)7251-50513-0
E: wps@westernacher.com I: www.westernacher.com

Westernacher
Products & Services AG